1. From among the young men taken to Outer Mongolia in 1945, certain (from Silingol League in Chahar) were selected to be trained as agents, called "Yao Yuan". Others were conscripted into the Outer Mongolian army. Fifty men were selected from East Sunit Banner (114-31, 43-13) and West Sunit Banner (112-35, 42-40), Fifty and fifty from Upper Abaga Banner (118-55, 42-40) and West Usumchin Banner (117-50, 44-45), Banner (East Abaga? 115-49, 43-41).
2. After graduation from the training school, the men were given practical work for a month in Outer Mongolia. If they were successful at this work, they were then sent into Inner Mongolia on missions.
3. Forty men were sent to Sunitetamiao 蘇尼特大廟, probably in West Sunit Banner, forty were sent to Wuchumuchinmijumic 烏珠木沁米其廟, probably in one of the Usumchin Banners, and forty to Khankit Banner (East or West not specified. East is at 116-58, 44-54, and West is at 116-18, 44-25). The whereabouts of the remaining thirty is unknown.
4. Each "Yao Yuan" is furnished 10,000 Mongolian bills (denomination not stated), one pistol, and one pocket radio (?). The men operate independently but maintain radio contact with their headquarters at Tailikangyai (probably Talihanga Banner, north west of Abaga Right Banner (114-30, 43-48) and southeast of Undur Khan.) [REDACTED] Note: Shine-dariganga Somon (113-33, 45-21) [REDACTED] Comment: Unconfirmed reports from other sources state that Outer Mongolian agents have penetrated parts of Inner Mongolia. There have also been reports that many of the Inner Mongolian youths who were taken to Outer Mongolia in 1945 were given training and sent back to their homes.)
5. During 1946, 300 Eastern Mongolian youths went to Bayan Tumen (Kerulen 114-30, 48-04) for military training, mainly to learn about aircraft and tanks. Some returned and are in the ranks of the Inner Mongolian Self Defense Forces.
